

Plenty of Paper Money Yet.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

There appears to be some unnecessary alarm in reference to paper promises to pay, incident to the cancellation of bonds held as a basis for note circulation. In consequence of the redemption of certain bonds during the past twelve months, there has been a reduction of about $10,000,000 in the outstanding note circulation of the National Banks. There is also a prospect that from $175,000,000 to $200,000,000 more out of these notes will be taken out of circulation within the next three years, if the banks do not substitute the 4½ or 4 per cents. for the three per cents. now held as a guarantee for the redemption of notes. This is the utmost that the National Bank note circulation can be curtailed for eight years, or until September 1st, 1891, when the 4½ per cents. become payable. Then it will be possible to take out of circulation $40,000,000 more. There is, therefore, a prospect that within nine years from $215,000,000 to $240,000,000 of National Bank note circulation may be retired, if no more 4 per cents. are deposited in place of those redeemed.

This is the whole extent of the threatened catastrophe. It cannot possibly be any more for the next twenty years, and may not even reach these proportions. What are the remedies to prevent even such a contraction of $240,000,000 paper money in the next nine years? There are two, one of which is already operative and the other can be availed of at any time. The operative cause is the issue of coin certificates, which have behind them the precious metals in coin forms. The increase in coin certificates outstanding during the year ending October 1, 1883, has been as follows:

	Gold.	Silver.
October 1, 1881.....	$53,014,920	$78,921,061
October 1, 1882.....	4,207,410	63,204,780

Net increase.....$50,107,500 $15,717,181
These figures show that there is $65,824,681 more money in circulation in the form of coin certificates than there was a year ago, against a loss of $10,000,000 in National Bank note circulation in the same interval. In other words the paper money circulation of the country shows a net increase of $65,824,681 during the year ending October 1, 1883.

It is all folly to say that these coin certificates are not as good and as available for general circulation as the National Bank notes. No better paper money is floated in any part of the world than coin certificates. Even those issued against deposits of Silver Dollars have as much intrinsic value as the National Bank note, for in the event of any scarcity of Gold that would disturb the present equilibrium, the National Banks would not hesitate to avail themselves of their right to redeem their notes in Silver Dollars, which can always be had for Silver certificates direct from the United States Treasury. In such an extremity the Government would also redeem its Legal Tender notes in Silver Dollars to the extent of any surplus in hand over Silver certificates outstanding at the time. Now an increase of $65,824,681 in such superior paper money as coin certificates within a single year, over and above the loss of National Bank notes, ought not to be considered as having in it any of the elements of danger, or even the appearance of danger.

So long as we can increase the amount of paper money about to the extent of $50,000,000, or $65,000,000 per annum, there is no use of laying awake nights studying problems for saving the National Bank note circulation from dropping out entirely. There is too much idle coin and bullion in the United States Treasury to entertain much anxiety as to what we are to do in case the banks refuse to maintain their circulation by substituting 4 per cents. for the 3 and 4½ per cents. that are likely to be called in during the next nine years. The Government need not buy up its 1 per cents. at a premium of 15 per cent. paying for the same in a new and long bond at 3 per cent. It is not necessary for the Government to stand sponsor for State debts in order that a basis for note circulation may be secured, nor is it necessary that the Government should become responsible for the bonds of other countries in order to get such a basis. The problem will solve itself if left alone, and in the interest of sound finance.

On the 1st of October, 1883, the Government had $89,431,786 in Gold coin in excess of the amount held to redeem Gold coin certificates. It also had $61,883,876 in Gold bullion, which the mints can soon run into coin. There was also an excess of $35,665,412 in Standard Dollars on hand over the amount held for the redemption of certificates, and $5,107,091 in Silver bullion that will be turned into Standard Dollars before the 1st of January. Here is a value of $192,200,000 in idle Gold and Silver that can be turned loose whenever wanted. This money will come out among the people just as soon as there is room for it, either in a metallic form or in the representative form of coin certificates. If, therefore, the whole of the National Bank note circulation, based on the 3 per cents., were withdrawn to-morrow, there would be no disturbance of the financial equilibrium—only an exchange of one form of money for another. If the banks are not making anything with notes against bonds at 3 per cent., they will lose nothing by such a change.

The country was never in a better condition to give up all National Bank circulation than now. Even if we had nothing but Legal Tenders, that would be as much paper money circulation as we had before the war. But we have, in addition, $134,000,000 in coin certificate circulation, and can add about $200,000,000 more right away. This would give the country $334,000,000 in this form of paper money, or within $20,000,000 of the present National Bank note circulation. We are producing from $70,000,000 to $80,000,000 in gold and silver every year. Room is needed for this money. As private paper is withdrawn this Gold and Silver will go into circulation in the form most desired by the people. The Government could well afford to take the surplus Silver bullion of the country at its average commercial value in Gold, and issue certificates therefor, to be received in the payment of all debts and to be redeemed in Gold or Silver coin at the option of the holder. It looks very much as if National Bank note circulation had reached its maximum, and that coin certificates would fill the vacuum.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT, State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe.

The State of Nevada send to The Antelope Gold and Silver Mining Company, a corporation formed under the laws of the State of Nevada, greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. J. Clark, as plaintiff in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said time, to answer the complaint, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover of you the sum of nine thousand and twenty-seven ($9,270) dollars for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered, money paid to you and for your use, at your request; also for labor performed by Ross Jones and bearing your hired men, by him, at your request; and which account was assigned to the plaintiff for value, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will take judgment for the said amount besides interest and costs of suit.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands this 13th day of May, A. D. 1883.

LAW-BREAKERS IN UTAH.

Frank Leslie's Illustrated Paper says "there is a strange state of things out in that corner of the alkaline plains which the Mormons still call 'The State of Deseret.' All persons practicing polygamy, both men and women, have been disfranchised and disqualified from holding office, by Act of Congress, and the Commissioners appointed by the President two years ago now report that they have succeeded in executing that law. They have driven all polygamists from office, and have permitted none to vote. Yet, at the August election, those very polygamists were so thoroughly triumphant that the new Legislature is composed of Mormons unanimously! The members have actually and practically only one wife apiece, but they regard with a jealous admiration those who are rich enough to possess half a dozen or a dozen of these left-handed domestic appendages. "This Legislature," say the Commissioners, "will convene in January next. It will be its duty, under the Act of 1882, to adopt measures, in conformity with the provisions of that law, for the suppression of polygamy." And this is where the laugh comes in, as Brigham Young used blandly to remark. President Taylor, his much-married successor, also, no doubt, sees the joke. Was it Laboulaye who wrote about the Congress of Cats for the suppression of mouse-eating? It was a merry Congress.

Seriously, it is high time that something was done to enforce social order in Utah. It is a disgrace that polygamy was not abolished there a generation ago. The Commissioners say that if the Legislature fails to do its duty, Congress should take stringent action; although the permanent disfranchisement of polygamists "would strongly influence the young Mormons" against going into such a relation. Of course the Legislature will fail—that is what it was elected for.

What, then? Governor Murray declares that many of the officials he has appointed are not allowed to perform the functions of their office, but the places are held by Mormons, appointed by Elder Taylor, under an unlawful "government" that has been imposed on the church for thirty years. The laws of Congress are derided. The courts are defied and defeated by Mormon juries. What then? Can there be no other courts and no other juries provided from outside?

The great trouble in abolishing polygamy arises from a prevalent impression that it would be interfering with the freedom of religious worship. It would be no such thing. Religion is wholly a moral matter; a mental state; the law only deals with material things. Religion is what a man thinks. Law relates only to what he does. The law does not touch the religion of Mormonism. It does not forbid the belief in the propriety of having two or twenty wives; it interferes only with the zealot attempts to put the theory into practice. Law does not forbid a citizen to believe in theft, forgery, arson, or murder; it is only when he actually robs, fires a building, or kills, that it lays a hand on him. An Asiatic may come here and live here, holding the religious belief in the necessity of a human sacrifice, but if he takes somebody's child and slaughters it, the law hangs him, without regard to his religion.

So of the vicious system of plural wives. Nature concurs in the laws prohibiting it; for she furnishes to the world as many men as women, and so the Utah monopolist poaches on the rights of some other man. There are laws against it, buttressed by many amendments. It is the shame of the nation that these laws are not enforced by some means. If there is no practical way to strengthen the hands of the Governor and cleanse the Courts and Legislature, let them be superseded by the army, the Territory placed under martial law, and the "Latter-Day Saints" compelled to conform to the limitations of ordinary sinners, and get along with one wife apiece. Why should this deadly cancer be allowed to grow from generation to generation?

Senator Wilson, of Iowa, is strongly in favor of re-nominating President Arthur, and declares that a majority of the people of his State feel the same way.

THE INDIAN.

Secretary Teller's Report on the Government's Obligation to Him.

A Washington special says: Secretary Teller has prepared his report. He has undertaken a work never before done, which is to find out exactly the financial relations existing between the Government and the various Indian tribes under the treaties. It seems the United States is really a great rascal when considered as a person, who has at various times voluntarily incurred certain obligations. There has been perfect indifference manifested to paying its debts under the treaties, and it owes in the vicinity of $5,000,000. There is due and unpaid to the Sioux agent for school purposes under the treaty of 1878 over $1,000,000. By that treaty the United States agreed to support a school for every thirty children, which it has not done. This was part of the consideration to the Indians for relinquishing their land, and Mr. Teller holds that the money the schools would have lost is honestly due the nation for school purposes. Again, there are 25,000 families who, under the treaty, should have received a cow, one yoke of oxen and one hundred dollars worth of tools, because they have settled down as is required. But none of these things was given them, because Congress failed to provide the means. All the information necessary to an honest discharge of these obligations will be laid before Congress this winter so there will be no excuse for failure. It is understood the Secretary will make very sweeping recommendations for cutting down to a rational basis all the great Indian reservations, and give each Indian so much in severally. He sees no use in allowing the Indians two or three square miles of land, when, on the average they do not cultivate one-tenth of an acre apiece. He will specially call attention to the great reservations in Montana, which stand as a bar to immigration. It is understood also that he will recommend a repeal of the Pre-emption act and make suggestions for radical changes in the Timber Land Laws.

The Tallest of Trees.

All the Year Round says: "Though there is every probability that California's big tree will maintain its supremacy as the most massive column in the world's forests, it must perforce yield to the palm of altitude to the Australian eucalyptus. In the valley of the Watts River, in Victoria, many fallen trees have been measured as they lie on the ground, and found to exceed 350 feet in length. One mighty giant had fallen so as to form a bridge across a deep ravine. It had been broken in falling, but the portion remaining intact measured 435 feet in length, and its girth at the point of fracture is nine feet; its discoverer estimates that the perfect tree measured fully 500 feet. Its circumference, five feet above the roots, is fifty-four feet. Another gum tree on Mount Wellington was found to be 102 feet in girth at three feet from the ground. Its height could not be estimated, owing to the density of the forest. But its next neighbor, which was ninety feet in circumference, was found to be 300 feet in height. In the Dandenong district of Victoria an almond-leaved gum-tree (Eucalyptus amygdalina) has been carefully measured, and is found to be 430 feet in height. It rises 380 feet before throwing out a branch; its circumference is sixty feet. Tasmania also produces specimens of eucalyptus which are 350 feet in height, and which rises 200 feet for forming a branch. One near Hobart Town is ninety-six feet in girth, and, till ten years ago, towered to a height of 300 feet, but is now a ruin. The question of supremacy is, however, confined to altitude, for the untidy-looking eucalyptus, with its ragged and tattered gray bark hanging about it in such slovenly fashion can never contest the palm of might or majesty with the stately cedars, whose magnificent golden-red shafts tower on high like the fluted marble columns of some vast cathedral.

Don't Like Hewitt.

The New York Times says: It is significant that the Democrats of Indiana, who regard their State and New York as keys to the situation next year, are beginning to discuss the prospect of a ticket made up of Senator McDonald and Congressman Hewitt, thus showing their appreciation of the kind of ability which will be necessary to their party in this State. It would be very hazardous to infer that Hewitt could carry New York for his party. He has many enemies here. His temperament is unfortunate, and what is more important, Hewitt showed in his treatment of the brutal Morey letter plot a lack of that manly candor which his previous course had led the public to suspect, and revealed a weakness of character that the public does not easily forget or forgive.

SILVER AND BULLION.

Comparative Statement to Prove That Uncle Sam's Treasury is Not Overburdened.

Chisholm's New York Mining Record declares the Evening Post's recent statements about the Treasury vaults being overburdened with silver, sheer nonsense. On the 31st of October the standard dollars and silver bullion in the Treasury did not exceed $120,470,715, of which $4,936,365 was new coin, and of which but $35,638,421 belonged to the Government. On the same day, there was stored in the vaults of the Bank of France silver five franc pieces to the value of 203,000,000 francs. The Bank of Netherlands and the Austro-Hungarian Bank conjointly, held more than $98,000,000 of silver money in their vaults, and the Imperial Bank of Germany as much as $75,000,000. In face of such facts, no one can possibly be justified in asserting that the Federal Treasury of a country of such immense territorial scope and immeasurable business activity is overburdened by owing less than $36,000,000 of the same species of money held for the redemption of that amount of outstanding paper money.

The Garfield Monument Site.

The site selected for the monument to President Garfield at his burial place is the highest point of Lakeview Cemetery, in the suburbs of Cleveland, near the Mayfield road, on an irregular, oblong-shaped piece of ground about 400 by 300 feet, containing about two and one half acres of land. About 200 feet from the roadway a cluster of trees mark the beginning of the territory to be devoted to that purpose. The probabilities are that about seventy-five feet north of a small shed, at present situated in the midst of the street, will mark the place for the monument, which will be made easy of access by the construction of a boulevard running all around the two and one-half acres of land, several wide driveways and approaches to lead into the boulevard, and convenient footwalks from the driveways to the monument proper. The view from this place is a magnificent one, and the monument, which will probably face the lake, could not be constructed on a more beautiful spot. The work of laying out the roadways, beautifying the grounds and raising the knoll to the proper level will be begun immediately. After the plans submitted by the gentlemen now at work on them will be approved by the committee, in order that when the work upon the foundation for the monument shall begin, the hauling of stone and other necessary material will be comparatively an easy matter.

A Western Postoffice Report.

The following is the wild western way in which a Montana postmaster replies to an official letter: Crow Agency, Montana, Sept. 29th, 1883.—Gen. H. A. Elmer, Second Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.—Sir: Your gentle hint of the 22d, informing me of my negligence in not reporting to you the arrival and departure of our one-hoss mail is received. If some of your dude clerks would put in a little more time and see to forwarding on the forms of such report earlier, we might have been able to have sent you regular reports of the arrival and departure of our famous one-hoss mail. We have been receiving mail regularly daily, and if someone a little later we can easily guess the reason therefor. The carrier owns four Heyneses, or, as they are commonly called, buzzard heads. The day he rides "Spotted Ike" he is a little behind time, as this one has the heaves, but, as a rule, the horn toots close to time. The day he is riding "Bucking Jake" he comes to time, but the mail-shaken up. Next day comes "One-eyed Comanche." He is a daisy; a little uncertain, as he sometimes balks. Fourth day comes "Bob-Tail Butcher," sporting, who is always on time. On the arrival of this boss comes the grand rush for postal cards. I hope you, in your goodness of heart, will not require of me to remain the full number of hours in the office, as I have to rustle outside a little and occasionally shoot a coyote, his skin readily bringing me twenty-five cents, which helps to keep me in sundry cigars and cider. Since in the goodness of your heart you have allowed us 100 per cent instead of 60, as heretofore, we hope to be able to afford a suit of winter clothes, and not be compelled to wear our old summer clothing all winter, as heretofore.—Wash. cor. Courier-Journal.

We are glad to notice that Nevada can now send its grain to California, over the Central Pacific at greatly reduced rates. How is it about shipping California Pioneer flour between the several points in this State as compared with the products of Nevada mills? Is it true that Nevada has an actual surplus of wheat over the amount required for home consumption if made into flour and used by our people?—Carson Index.

The enterprising Associated Press reporter at Chicago has interviewed Senator James G. Fair upon the political situation, and that modern Solomon declares boldly for Samuel J. Tilden. The sage of Gracery Park might as well bid good-bye to his political aspirations, for if anything could kill them it would be the friendship of such a man as Jimmy Fair.—Sac. Bee.

The Reunited Party.

The Republican party is shaking itself together, and getting ready for business in a manner that gives promise of substantial results. There is every indication of an early and a complete restoration of Republican vitality, and unless the signs of the times are sadly at fault the party will enter upon the Presidential year with assurance of success in the grand National struggle. The party prospect is bright from every point of observation. There is an encouraging disposition on the part of old fashion leaders to forget their differences and join issue against the common enemy. There have been no dramatic scenes of political reconciliation—no falling upon necks and shedding of forced tears, or anything of that sort; merely a quiet handshake and a mutual understanding and agreement that the time to proceed to business had arrived.—National Republican.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A HOME DRUGGIST'S TESTIMONY.

Popularity at home is not always the best test of merit, but we point proudly to the fact that no other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The following letter from one of our best known Massachusetts Druggists should be of interest to every sufferer:—

RHEUMATISM. "Eight years ago I had an attack of rheumatism, so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public."

SALT RHEUM. GEORGE ANDREWS, overseer in the Lowell Carpet Corporation, was for over twenty years before his removal to Lowell afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form. Its ulcerations actually covered more than half the surface of his body and limbs. He was entirely cured by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. See certificate in Ayer's Almanac for 1883.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles for $5.

Geo. W. Cunningham and family will leave on this morning's train for Washington Territory. Their present objective point is New Tacoma. Mr. Cunningham goes to that new country to find a permanent home. The best wishes of this community go with them.

Wounded on the Train.

A young man named Davis was taken from the west-bound emigrant train yesterday morning and provided with quarters in the county hospital for medical treatment. The young man was accidentally shot through both thighs at a small station east of Winnemucca, last Monday. It appears that he, with several others, were indulging in a little pistol practice while the train was resting at the station, when by some means one of the pistols was accidentally discharged, wounding Davis in the manner stated. On the way, hither he received every attention possible at the hands of the passengers, and especially the ladies, who willingly gave up their feather beds and did all in their power to alleviate his suffering. The young man is from Kentucky, and has means to pay his way, and is accompanied and attended by his friend, Joseph Thomas, who hails from the same place. Dr. Waggoner has been unable to extract the bullet, but says the wounds are not necessarily dangerous, and thinks with good luck and care the patient will be able to proceed on his journey in a few weeks.

The Pilgrims Return.

All that remains of the band of Putes that were banished to the Yakami reservation, in Oregon, after the Bannock war some three years ago, and who escaped from the reservation last Spring and have since been slowly working their way back across the country to their old home, are now congregating on Quin river, in the northern part of Humboldt county. They have had a hard, tedious journey over a strange country, and many of their number died of starvation and sickness on the trip. Between two and three hundred of them will camp on the river this Winter, and they are reported to be in a woeful state of destitution, and will surely perish before the Spring opens unless provided with rations by the military post at Camp McDermitt.

A Crank.

For two or three days, train men on the N. & N. have noticed a man aimlessly wandering around near the track about fifteen miles north of town, and yesterday Mr. Berry stopped the train and took the man aboard and brought him to town. He is thought to be insane. He told Berry that he was on his way to Oneida to finish building the N. & O. railroad, and that as soon as finished he would fence it in. It was the intention to turn him over to the officers but as soon as the train came to a halt he skipped out into the darkness and could not be found.

Becoming Civilized.

As an evidence that the Washoe Indians are becoming civilized is the fact that they have just completed two board houses a short distance East of town, and have covered them with the best quality of redwood shingles and have fitted them up with cooking stoves, tables, cupboards, bunks etc., and are preparing to live like white people.

Home, Sweet Home.

L. Tracy, better known as "old dad," who has been an inmate of the county hospital for a number of years, and who has been grieving his life away because of his inability to go to his children in Ringold, Illinois, has been provided with a ticket and an outfit and will leave this morning for the East. It was a kindly act to provide the poor old man an opportunity to go.

Grand Army.

J. W. Staples, Commander of the Department of California, Grand Army of the Republic, is visiting the California posts. After organizing a new one at Nevada City, he intends to visit Nevada.

Mrs. G. W. Bidair came in from Susanville last evening to attend her boy who is sick at the Golden Eagle.

Don't Like It.

In reporting some notes concerning the California Drummers' Association, the San Francisco Alta says:

The narrow-minded policy of some few interior municipalities led them to impose an onerous license tax on commercial travelers; the association took the matter up at their own cost. They made such representations that in Boise City and Lewiston, Idaho, the high license was suspended. Some effort was also made to reduce the license in Nevada, but a few large merchants, who run the Sagebrush State, fearing that the presence of traveling men would make it more difficult for them to charge 100 per cent profit, as is their custom, ran the license up so high that it hardly pays San Francisco houses to send men out, unless they add the cost of license to the customers' bill. Of course any but a prejudiced person, will see that it is for the benefit of Nevadans to have all the San Francisco houses represented in their State, but Nevada is hardly ready to emerge from its backward condition and become a first-class State. Perhaps if an organized effort was made by the San Francisco houses, the Nevadans would see the error of their high license scheme, but it seems that at present nothing is to be done to ease the path of the business pioneer in Nevada.

A Card.

William Pinniger tenders his best thanks to his numerous friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal support accorded him in the past, and he begs to inform them that he has again effected a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, at the old stand, and respectfully invites a continuance of their patronage. The new firm have added largely to their stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes; toilet and fancy articles, etc. In the dispensing department they make a specialty of physicians' prescriptions and family receipts, bringing to their already large experience the latest achievements in scientific pharmacy, and are prompt in filling all orders entrusted to them.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-1-yr

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

181 WEST TENTH STREET,
New York, August 11, 1880.

Messrs. SANBURY & JOHNSON,

Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally, and BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours,

H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT, STATE OF NEVADA, IN and for the County of Washoe.

The State of Nevada sends to Frank Odette, Thomas Freehill and Joseph Odette, greeting.

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant, by A. J. Clark, as plaintiff, in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District in and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service) if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree of the Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the said complaint and executed by Frank Odette on the 1st day of April 1882 to secure the payment of a certain promissory note dated the 1st day of April 1882 made by said Frank Odette, for the sum of $725, payable on or before the 1st day of April 1883, with interest thereon at the rate of one and one-quarter per cent per month from date until paid, that the premises conveyed may be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of said promissory note, with interest thereon as aforesaid and costs of suit, and in case such proceeds are not sufficient to pay the same then to obtain a decree against said Frank Odette for the balance remaining due and also that the defendants and all persons claiming by through or under them, may be barred and foreclosed of all right title claim, lien, equity of redemption in and to said mortgaged premises and for other and further relief.

All of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

Dated Reno, this 11th day of September 1883.

H. B. COBBITT, Attorney for Plaintiff.
